

CERTIFICATE IN SOMATIC TA

In-person experiential course
6 days over 3 weekends in
Edinburgh. Starts November 2025

Somatic TA is a gateway to working with unconscious process and a powerful tool for encouraging change.

Particularly helpful when working with more complex presentations, stuckness, overwhelm, anxiety and when other issues in the therapeutic work are difficult to verbalise or access.

Somatic work is not limited by modality and integrates with a range of theoretical approaches including Transactional Analysis, psychoanalysis, body psychotherapy & trauma-informed work.

Learning outcomes include:

- Awareness of your own body process and defences
- Understanding 'bodymind' in the therapeutic relationship and therapeutic interventions.
- Developing your knowledge of somatic orientated psychotherapy and trauma process
- Developing your own style of working

The Certificate in Somatic TA is a dynamic and experiential course with plenty of space for play and process. We will practice techniques through group work, observation and supervision to give attendees the confidence to use the somatic within their work.

Course Content

The course is made up of 3 weekend modules - each covering a foundational part of the somatic framework

Module 1: 22 & 23 November 2025 Mapping the Territory

Getting to know your bodymind, establishing contact, space and pace.

Module 2: 17 & 18 January 2026 Expanding the Frame

Moving through new territories, deepening contact, stretching beyond your comfort.

Module 3: 21 & 22 February 2026 Standing in Your Boots

Developing your own style, taking space and experimenting with flow.

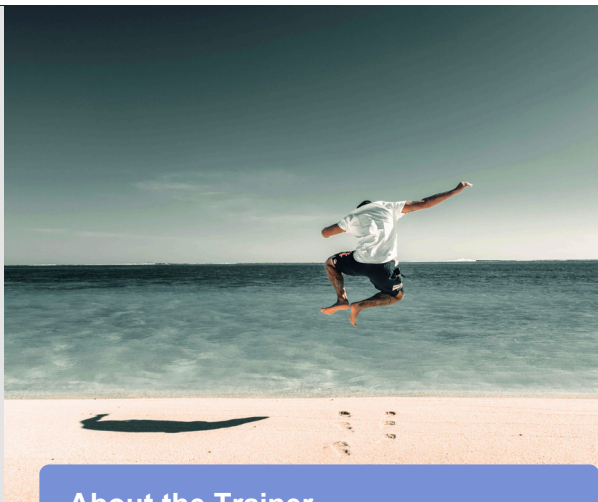

Assessment

There is one assessment that takes place during the April weekend. Students design a short body-orientated activity for an individual, couple or group.
